

IS MARSH TO BE CANDIDATE ALSO?

COUNTY OPTION CANDIDATE
TALKED OF AS A POSSIBILITY.

REPORT HEARD IN MILWAUKEE

Would Make County Option the State
Issue If He Ran—Other Political Gossip.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 25.—Political gossip connects the name of State Senator Marsh of Nollabrook with the race for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Marsh is at present at his winter home in Florida, where it is said he has been besieged with letters and telegrams. If Senator Marsh should seek the republican nomination for governor it will be on a county option platform and there is reason to believe that, even if he were to win the nomination, the county option issue would not be taken up in the campaign. The county option issue is not popular in the state and it is not expected that it will be taken up in the campaign. The county option issue is not popular in the state and it is not expected that it will be taken up in the campaign.

The story is also current in political circles that Lewis is in the race simply to hold the field open and when the time comes he will drop out in favor of McGovern. This will mean that the double-cross has been given to McGovern as it is certain that the La Follette men would not have consented to run second on the McGovern ticket.

Bray of Oshkosh, who has been talked of by the conservative element as a gubernatorial candidate, states that he is not a candidate and will not permit his name to be used in this connection at all. Bray will be found in the legislature again as representing Oshkosh.

Talk now seems to center on the possibility of Hancock's becoming a candidate for the United States Senate to oppose La Follette and many friends of the speaker are urging him to take the step. Frequent conferences have been held in regard to this move and it is expected a decision will be reached this coming week.

ATHLETES FEEL THE FACULTY'S WRATH

Many Declared Ineligible by Faculty Rulings in Recent Examination.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 25.—Woes were multiplied upon University of Wisconsin athletes by the faculty in the recent semi-annual examinations. Twenty athletes were declared ineligible. The basketball team suffered most, as only two men escaped of all who went on the trip to Japan last summer. The team returned to Madison early in November, having lost about seven weeks of the fall term, and the students were supposed to make up the work they missed, but some professors did not give any assistance in this direction, and charged up conditions or failures largely on the basis of the absence from classes during the first weeks of the year. "Bud" Culver escaped the ban of ineligibility, but it is recalled that he did not go to Japan, remaining in Wisconsin so as to be able to report promptly for the opening of the football training season.

The basketball team also was hit. Sidel, center rush, being so marked in examinations as to render him ineligible for participation in intercollegiate athletics. Coach Van Loan of the crew also fell. "Red" Williams, who was declared to be a better football player than any member of the team that was walked over by Minnesota last fall, but who could not play last season because of faculty opposition, was placed so utterly to the bad in the recent examinations that he concluded to abandon his studies here and go east to enter a school "where a good athlete is appreciated."

"The most unkindliest cut of all" this faculty mop-up was the disbarment of "Red" Parker, the celebrated Badger cheer leader. He failed in examinations so badly that he decided to capitalize his clownish prowess and go on the vaudeville stage. Now the students are posing the hat to get a big loving cup for their favorite rooting man.

FIFTH ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—With delegates present from a majority of the states, the fifth annual conference of weights and measures was opened today at the Department of Commerce and Labor. The object of the conference, which will continue its sessions two days, is to obtain standardization of all weights and measures and secure their adoption by different states.

INTEREST TO FARMER IN THE STATE PLAN

The State Conservation Campaign
Means Much to the Tiller
of the Soil.

Oshkosh, Wis., Feb. 25.—The state conservation committee, whose campaign is arousing so much interest throughout the state under the leadership of Assemblyman William M. Bray, is making a special effort to put the conservation question up to the farmers and to help them in the solution of the problem. A great work needs to be done in Wisconsin along the line of soil conservation.

The committee is in correspondence with the department of agriculture at the state university, and will exhibit all over the state many views showing the effects of soil depletion, the improvements made in other countries, and what can be done in this state.

This is one of the most vital features of the campaign to be carried on under these auspices. The committee hopes to promote legislation looking toward the improvement of conditions on Wisconsin farms. A movement which will conserve the soil, upon which all else depends, is fraught with great advantage to every citizen and especially to the farmer.

In Wisconsin experiments show that phosphates, the most valuable soil constituent, are rapidly decreasing; in many cases 30 per cent of the phosphate acid has been lost and hence crop yields have decreased nearly 50 per cent. The Netherlands produce 24,18 bushels of wheat per acre to our 14; 53.1 bushels of oats per acre to our 23.7; and 232 bushels of potatoes per acre to our 95.4. Wisconsin has the double problem of conserving the soil of its 40 per cent of improved lands and of utilizing its 60 per cent of unimproved lands. With the present high prices of all food supplies and farm products, it would mean much to have the present area of agricultural land in the state and the yield of each acre per year doubled.

CHINESE SUPREME IN THIBET TODAY

Announce That The Sacred Lama Left
His Charges and Hence Has Abdicated.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Peking, Feb. 25.—The Chinese government has deposed the Dalai Lama as head of the Tibetan government and in an official statement issued today explains its actions on the ground that the ruler had deserted the capital following an attempt by him to organize a general revolt. The army, which consists of twenty-five thousand Chinese soldiers, with a full equipment of wireless telegraph instruments and field and mountain artillery drilled and commanded by Japanese are now in complete possession of the country. They will reduce the number of monks in the monasteries from five thousand to a hundred, and will seek to open the country for colonization.

SIR EDWARD GREY THE NEXT PREMIER?

Admirers Believe He Is Logical Choice
In Case Asquith Is Forced to Resign and Balfour Refuses Office.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
London, Feb. 25.—As the session of parliament proceeds it becomes daily more evident to those observers that contingencies are likely to force an early change of administration. With the situation now confronting him, it will not be surprising if Mr. Asquith resigns office after a futile attempt to perform the primary duty of restoring a majority for those measures requisite for the carrying on of the King's Government.

If Mr. Balfour declines to take office and Mr. Asquith refuses to go on, it will become necessary to cast about for some one else to assume the responsibility. It is believed by competent observers that the only available man possessing the requisite qualities of leadership is Sir Edward Grey. There are those who confidently declare that it is only a question of time until Sir Edward becomes prime minister.

The grandson of Sir George Grey, who was several times home secretary, and the grand nephew of Earl Grey of reform bill fame, Sir Edward inherits political instincts and talent of the highest order. He had severely attained his majority when he became private secretary of Sir Evelyn Baring (later Lord Cromer), and he acted in the same capacity to Mr. Childers at the time the latter was chancellor of the exchequer.

Entering parliament at the age of 22 years, he made some stir at an early period of his career by his independence on the question of Irish land purchase. He was only 20 when Mr. Gladstone appointed him, in 1892, under secretary for foreign affairs. As his chief was in the house of lords, his position was important, and it became particularly delicate when Lord Rosebery succeeded to the premiership. Sir Edward Grey had to expound a policy with which he was suspected Lord Rosebery's principal colleague did not always sympathize. He did the work which then fell to his hand with courage as well as with propriety. Later, during the period of Liberal opposition, he became strongly to the front as a critic of the foreign policy of the Balfour administration.

Although his style is restrained, Sir Edward's speeches are nearly always impressive and effective. Once he was announced to address a meeting of northern miners who were keen radicals. Instead of giving them a slashing harangue Sir Edward spoke modestly on foreign affairs, yet his audience listened with deep interest.

FAMOUS HEROINE IS SIXTY-NINE TODAY

Ida Lewis, the "Grace Darling of America," Has Spent Half a Century At Lime Rock Lighthouse

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Newport, R. I., Feb. 25.—In the Lime Rock lighthouse, where she has spent more than half a century, Ida Lewis, the famous life-saver, passed her sixty-ninth birthday today with only the music of the rolling ocean to keep her company. Fifty-one years have elapsed since she made her first rescue of a shipwrecked mariner, who could have perished in the surging billows but for her timely aid. Since then she has earned the title of "the Grace Darling of America" by adding seventeen other rescues to her list. Though reluctant to give up her duties as keeper of the light, it is probable that the famous life-saver, who is now beginning to feel the weight of her years, will be induced to retire on a pension before another winter.

MRS. BELMONT NOT INCLUDED IN LIST

Of Those Urged To Attend Hoboken
Session Of Equal Franchise
League—Mrs. Stevens Doesn't Like Her.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Hoboken, N. J., Feb. 25.—At a meeting held today at Castle Point, the home of Mrs. Richard Stevens, plans were considered for the formation of a New Jersey branch of the Equal Franchise League. Mrs. Clarence H. Macdonald presided at the meeting, which was attended by prominent women from Newark, the Oranges and other points. Considerable comment was caused by the fact that Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the well known New York suffrage leader, was not invited to attend. Mrs. Stevens explained that Mrs. Belmont was not invited to the meeting because she did not like Mrs. Belmont. She qualified this statement at once by explaining that she did not like the ideas for which Mrs. Belmont stood.

Parker will preside, and the speakers will include Governor Hughes, Joseph H. Choate, and Senator Robert L. Taylor of Tennessee.

Honor Southern Jurists.
Macon, Ga., Feb. 25.—Many prominent representatives of the bench and bar of Georgia and the neighboring states have come to Macon to attend a big banquet to be given at the Hotel Lumber tonight in honor of Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court for the southern district of Georgia. The affair has been arranged in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of Judge Speer's confirmation on the bench of the United States court.

Judge Emory Speer is probably the best known jurist in the south. Prior to his elevation to the federal bench he had served as solicitor-general of Georgia, as representative in Congress, as United States district attorney and as president of the law department of Mercer University. An orator he had a national reputation. He delivered the annual oration at the Grant Day celebration at Galena, Ill., in 1898, and was the chief speaker at the great Peace Jubilee held in Chicago in the same year.

Macdunn, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. E. R. Buckley, president of the American Mining Congress.

QUARANTINE RULING TO BE INSISTED ON

State Board of Health Takes Radical Steps in Case of Wausau.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., Feb. 25.—If in the future the city of Wausau, Wis., shall fail to quarantine infectious diseases, the state will take charge of the situation and charge the expense up to the city. The state board of health will issue this ultimatum if necessary, as scarlet fever is raging there. The situation at Wausau has reached an acute stage, but the authorities, spurred to action by the state health board, by Secretary C. A. Harper of Madison, who visited the diseased stricken municipality, is now taking a turn for the better, but not without stubborn opposition to quarantine regulations on the part of many physicians and city authorities.

The situation at Wausau is one of the worst ever reported to the state board. For four years the authorities had not quarantined a single case of contagious disease, and that an epidemic was averted for so long was due only to good luck. Doctors of the city asserted that scarlet fever, now prevalent, came from Edgar, a village near by, but it develops that Edgar was free from contagion until it came from Wausau. The health officials of Wausau maintained that public sentiment was against public quarantine, and that the regulation was unnecessary.

Recently the state board of health offered to place a state antitoxin station at Wausau, but the health officer of the city frowned on the proposition. A proprietary concern has been supplying the antitoxin to the Wausau trade. At present there are between forty and fifty cases of scarlet fever there.

The law under which the state has power to take charge of a situation like that now prevailing at Wausau was passed by the last legislature, the section reading as follows:

BURNS BATTEN MILLS GUTTED BY FIRE TODAY

SPARK FROM CARD-GRINDER
STARTED BLAZE.

LOSS MAY REACH $20,000

So Far As Can Be Ascertained Insurance
Totals Only $6,200—Firemen Badly Handicapped.

It is roughly estimated that between $18,000 and $20,000 worth of property was destroyed by the fire which broke out in the carding room of the Jamesville Batten Mills at the corner of North River and Race streets this morning and which gutted all the adjoining buildings excepting the one on the south side where $6,000 worth of baled material was stored.

Thomas P. Burns, secretary and treasurer and principal owner of the concern had gone to Chicago on an early morning train and the total amount of insurance carried could not be ascertained for a certainty.

It is probable, however, that $2,000 carried by J. H. Burns' companies, $2,000 taken out with J. W. Scott, and $1,000 with Carter & Morse—total, $5,000—represents the aggregate. Many of the companies or their agents refused outright to touch the risk on account of the ramshackle character of the frame structures and the constant exposure to danger of large quantities of highly inflammable material.

Spark From Card-Grinder.
The blaze started in the center of the long room on the north side where the machines that remove the seeds from the raw cotton and disentangle and collect the bolls are located. It is supposed to have had its origin in a spark thrown off by an emery-wheel card grinder operating in the vicinity of an open bawl.

Flames Spread.
The flames spread in all directions in less time than it takes to tell it. Daniel Courtney, vice president of the company, had just put a fire in the boiler and abandoned his attempt to reach the scene of trouble only after his mustache and eyebrows had been badly singed. Supt. Vance Upchurch, who also ran thitherward from the boiler room made an unsuccessful effort to get to the standpipe and hose and turn on the water in the perforated pipe.

The fifteen other employees, men and girls, had meantime abandoned their tasks and gotten clear of the buildings. One of the four of the building, a light plant, to turn in a fire alarm and in his bewildered moment forgot his mission there.

Troubles of Department.
The fire department, upon reaching the scene, found the flames breaking out almost simultaneously in almost every building in the group. They threatened to spread to the boat-houses on the north and the Fourth avenue bridge on the east. The carding-room, with its sheet-iron roof, had become a roaring furnace and was almost inaccessible. To add to the difficulties occasioned by zero temperature, and a short-handed working force, the lines of hose broke at inopportune moments.

Three hundred feet of it that had just been secured by the purchasing committee of the common council had to be rejected and thrown aside. Some of the lines elongated and filled miserably in delivering the water.

The rickety character of the Fourth avenue bridge made it inadvisable to attempt to operate the new fire engine there and the water supply had to be drawn from a hole that was quickly cut in the ice a few feet distant from the bank of the shallow and muddy river-way.

In the face of difficulties and insufficient men in many instances the regulars, the fire police, and several volunteers, also, worked valiantly, often with bare hands and hair and caps embedded in ice, to block the progress of devastation.

Bleaching-Room Gutted.
Despite all efforts, the new bleaching room on the south side which was recently installed at a cost of $7,000 was badly gutted and there will be a twenty per cent loss at least on all of the new machinery in that department. The carding machines, which cost $1,000 apiece, are probably utterly ruined. One thousand crates and a large quantity of sucking in the building on the east side burned up like tinder.

Superintendent Had to Leave.
Superintendent Upchurch, who is still suffering keenly from the effects of an accident on Feb. 10 with a hand-saw, was unable to remain at the mill until his physician, Dr. Sartell, arrived upon the scene. He warned him that he was in imminent danger of contracting pneumonia. Even then he yielded the point, only after every form of persuasion and warning had been brought to bear upon him.

Coffee for Firemen.
At noon the fire was still obstinately resisting the streams from a dozen lines of hose and the proposition looked like an all-day task. Through the thoughtfulness of Hal Keating of the Burns dry goods establishment, coffee and sandwiches were served to the firemen during the noon hour. It was the first big fire in this vicinity for many months and attracted a large throng of spectators to the scene. Mr. Burns' net loss may total $10,000.

SECURES TITLE TO VALUABLE PROPERTY

Defeated the City of Superior in Test Case for the Property.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Superior, Wis., Feb. 25.—The attorney for six daughters of the late Mrs. Jos. Foltz of this city has just won a cleverly played game of law, a decision by the supreme court giving to the girls clear title, unincumbered, to all but one lot in a block of property in the residence district of the city.

The property had gone for taxes, which on account of costly pavement and sewer construction had accumulated during several years so that, when the after-noon slump in realty values hit that part of the city, it was worth only a small part of what it would have taken to clear the taxes. The city, through the county, got a tax deed. The trustee for the heirs, however, had been allowing a tenant to occupy the house on the block and to utilize the entire piece of property. In order to clear title the party that gets a tax deed must move to take possession within three years. This the city did by getting the tenant to sign a paper acknowledging himself to be tenant of the city. As he paid no rent, however, he did not notify the other landlord, the city merely filing the acknowledgment away for future use. After the three years were up the trustee sued to get a clear title on the ground that the tenancy was ambiguous and that in that case landlord No. 1 has the best claim. This contention is upheld and the city loses all but one lot which it did actually use itself for a polling booth. The tax deed operated to clear all taxes and the young ladies get a nice piece of realty clear.

NEW FREIGHT YARDS ARE STILL BLOCKED

No Relief in Sight Until Spring Unless Traffic Rush Begins to Slacken.

For the past two weeks conditions at the new yards have been growing worse steadily until at the present time the yards are almost completely blocked. Freight cars fill every side track and every effort is being made to keep the leads and main clear in order to keep the switch-engines at work.

The state of affairs is duplicated at every station between Chicago and Wisconsin with the exception that the Janesville yards are receiving full tonnage while others, Marquette for instance, are forced to care for only half tonnage. Full tonnage means that space must be ready for trains which reach up to 2,000 tons, those drawn by the new Class "Z" engines, and this practice, without the relief afforded by being able to send out full tonnage, results in many cars being left in the local yards.

Four day switch engines and two night engines are at work all the time, in addition to one day and one night switch engine in the down town yards. Despite their work, the yards have not been able to accommodate all the cars billed here, and three trains were refused last Sunday and set out at Shople. Yardmaster Griffith's illness, although his place has been capably filled by John Clough, has also added to the troubles incident to the rush.

Relief is expected when winter breaks, however, for during warm weather, delays to passenger trains and the consequent disarrangement of freight traffic will become less frequent and switchmen can accomplish more work.

Conductor Sherman and Engineer McCus took a second section of 5:04 south last night at 9 o'clock with engine 45.

Operator George Stewart resumed the third trick at the passenger station yesterday after having worked at the new yards for the past six months.

Engineer Wilson and Fireman Urn went south on 578 last night at 2:30 on account of pool crews resting.

SEEKING TO CHECK FEVER EPIDEMIC

Health and School Authorities Use Vigorous Means to Prevent Spread of Disease.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Beloit, Wis., Feb. 25.—The health and school authorities are taking vigorous measures to check scarlet fever. All the schools, theatres, street cars and churches are being fumigated. The health officer reports a decrease in cases this past week. The school board last night passed resolutions declaring that in their opinion few if any cases have originated in any public school. The board recommends that a sanitary commission be appointed to assist the health officers until the disease is over. The public library will probably be closed. There has been only one death due to the fever, that of a child with a bad throat anyway.

The Rock River Valley Men's association at the meeting in the city yesterday afternoon elected officers as follows: President—L. S. Mosley, Beloit; Vice-President, George L. Layton, Rockton; Secretary, W. O. Hanson, Beloit. The date of the picnic was set for Aug. 25, and the place is being considered. There is some demand to give it at Rockford this year and there are others who want it in the city of Beloit. Many favor the old place, Ho-No-Ne-Gah park, near Roscoe, and it will probably be held there as 2,000 teams must be accommodated and there are few places where it can be done.

The beer seized by the officers from the hotel at South Janesville was turned into the gutter at the police station yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Edwin A. Ralph, formerly of the Second Congregational church of this city, has accepted a call to go to Green Bay.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ECONOMICS CLUB

Very Enjoyable Session for Transaction of Business Held at Hanover Yesterday.

The members of the Summer Club of Household Economics held their annual meeting yesterday, assembling in the hall at Hanover for one of the most enjoyable sessions ever held. About fifty ladies attended from this city, going out to the village on the train leaving here at 10:35. A short business session was held before noon and at twelve o'clock a bounteous dinner was served, thoroughly enjoyed by all. In the afternoon the business session was continued and Miss Ruth Humphrey gave a delightful reading. Mrs. J. B. Day gave a talk to the members of the club as to what should be done the coming year. She suggested various methods for the disposition of the club fund, whether they should again give a vacation to children from the Chicago tenements; whether the best method, if such a course were adopted would be to put them on farms or rent a cottage and keep them all together; or whether the money should be used for local work. She suggested the establishment of a rest room in Janesville for women who come into the city from out of town. Mrs. Day said that eventually such a convenience would be established in the city and stated that it would be to the credit of the club to take charge of the work. No action was taken on the suggestions of Mrs. Day, but at the next meeting of the club it will be decided what course will be adopted.

Officers for the coming year were elected by the club at the meeting yesterday. They are as follows:

President—Mrs. Rosa Davis.
Vice President—Mrs. Marie Roessling.
Secretary—Mrs. Claude Hendricks.
Corr. Sec'y—Mrs. Brower.
Treasurer—Miss Alma King.
Auditor—Mrs. Homer Taylor.

A NEW EPIC

Perched on the western coast of Europe lies a little country that has played an important part in the making of the world's history; a tiny country as compared with its sister kingdoms, empires and republics, but one whose passing would mark a new alignment of the world's politics. One does not often hear of the greatness of Portugal except in dusty old volumes and the news which comes saying that the Chinese government is seeking to oust Portugal from the little island of Macao at the mouth of the Canton river, the farthest east of that Portuguese empire that once was. To the young King Manuel may thus fall the destiny of acknowledging the ending of what his nameake on the Lusitanian throne saw so triumphantly begun.

At the end of the fifteenth century the Portuguese were the most enterprising seamen of Europe. Directed by the bold genius of Prince Henry the Navigator they had pushed out into the Atlantic to the Canaries, the Azores and Madeira, and far south along the African coast. In the same decade that Columbus sought India and found a new world Vasco da Gama sailed round the Cape of Storms and found that sea route to India of which there were dim traditions from the days of the Pharaohs and the galleys of Tyre.

Of the two discoveries that of Vasco da Gama was the more immediately important. It upset the Oriental trade arrangements of Europe. Egypt was no longer the indispensable half-way house to India. The Venetian struggle for maritime supremacy in the eastern Mediterranean ceased to have a permanent object. Within a few years Lisbon became the great market and transfer point where the wares of the west and east were exchanged. Such were the achievements of the reign of Manuel the Fortunate.

The Portuguese empire in Asia from the beginning was commercial rather than colonial. Bought as an escape from the monopolies of Venice and Genoa of Oriental trade it was built on even narrower foundations. To trade with India and China was made a monopoly of the crown and its favorites. So long as Lisbon was a port open on equal terms to the seafarers of northern Europe this might be endured. But when Sebastian of Portugal perished in his insane African adventure, and his kingdom fell into the grasp of Philip of Spain, the bold and practical Dutch navigators, shut out of Lisbon, simply sailed on to Asia.

That was the beginning of the end of the Portuguese empire in Asia. The French and English followed the Dutch around the Cape of Good Hope. During the first half of the seventeenth century Spain was the enemy of all three; and in Asia Portugal paid for Spain. When the struggle between France and England for India came in the next century Portugal was already a negligible factor in Asia and in Europe was virtually a British protectorate, as she has ever since remained. Before that Portugal had been compelled to divide with Holland these Spice Islands which Magellan sailed round the world to reach from the east and establish a Spanish claim.

Macao, the Portuguese farthest east, has long been a sleepy little island town with a trifling trade, the refuge of adventurers who found the atmosphere of Singapore and Rangoon and Batavia, of Manila, Hongkong and Canton, too warm for comfort because of the inquisitive attentions of the police. Its facilities for shady and contraband transactions have, curiously enough, given China the excuse of Occidental rather than of Oriental diplomacy for attempting an ouster of Portugal.

The Chinese seized off Macao a Japanese vessel loaded with contraband of war. Portugal shuttled out of the difficulty by denying that the seizure was made in Portuguese waters. "If not in Portuguese then in Chinese," is the thought that has come to China. Hence the demand for Macao.

Yet the Portuguese adventure to Asia, so brief in its splendor and so long and feld in its decay, produced what none of the other European adventures has—an epic poem of merit. If "Paradise Lost" be the epic of religion and "Jerusalem Delivered" the epic of chivalry, "The Lusitad" is the epic of commerce. And if the long anti-climax of that record of Lusitanian courage, enterprise and achievement be now revealing its sordid end, the deeds of bold and strong men who sought and found and moved their world will live in the sonorous verses of Camoens.

Poles to be counted as Russians, Austrians or Germans rather than plain and simple Poles has caused this nation's representatives in the United States to rise up in their might and demand a change in the census laws in their favor. They do not want to lose their nationality despite the fact their nation is sunk into oblivion as a nation.

Regardless of the merits of the controversy the Philadelphia street car company and the strikers should both be brought up short and it is to be hoped that Philadelphia will see to it that they are taught a lesson they will not soon forget. Perhaps the company is not to be blamed so much as are the strikers.

Colonel Gordon of Mississippi, who has been in the United States Senate for but sixty days, gave his "swan" song yesterday to public life and his speech was well received by the members of the Senate who have learned to know and love this gentle southern gentleman in his short term as their associate.

So "Phleg" Connor had to take a back seat to Mr. Murphy despite the fact the Tammany leader had lost his hold on New York state politics through the defeat of his candidate for New York city offices.

Cheer up; March is coming and perhaps it is not half as bad as may be expected from the weather we are having now.

That portion of the population of Philadelphia that goes to work on roller skates may have needed this form of exercise.

Fairbanks could write a book or how to be happy even though you are an ex-vice president.

Among those who may have overlooked the cold storage business is the weather bureau.

These tramp cold waves are not approved of by the average householder.

San Francisco is back on the prize fight map again.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

I like to think that when I'm dead, my restless soul unchained, the things that worry my fat head will then all be explained. This fact LOOKING a lot of sorrow brings, FORWARD throughout this weary land; there are so many, many things we do not understand! Oh, why is Virtue oft oppressed, and accused and beaten down, while Vice with gems of East and West, is flaunting through the town? And why is childhood's face with tears of sorrow often stained? When I have reached the shining spheres, these things will be explained. Why does the poor man go to jail, because he steals a trout, while wealthy men who steal a whole cattle easily stay out? Why does affliction dog the man, who earns two bones a day, who, though he try the best he can, can't drive the wolf away? Why does the weary woman sow, to earn a pauper's gain, while scores of dandy spendthrifts blow their wealth for dry champagne? Why do we send the shivering back to fronton in Cuthay, while in the squalid alley's murky white feet have gone astray? Such question, in a motley crowd, at my poor mind have strained; but when I sit upon a cloud, these things will be explained.

Pine Stronger Than Steel. Calculation confirmed by experiment has shown that, weight for weight, pine wood is stronger than steel in both transverse and tensile strength. It is regarded as doubtful if any metal could be made into a hollow rod equalling a bamboo rod in stiffness without exceeding it in weight. In structures of wood the weak points are always at the joints.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

MR. FARMER,

Do you realize that you are paying too much for your stock food? It costs you 6 or 7 cents a pound in 100-lb. lots, 10c to 25c in smaller quantities. Why not make it yourself? Buy 3 lbs. sulphur, 3 lbs. saltpetre, 1 lb. guano, 1 lb. saltpetre, 1 lb. bone-meal, mix this with 100 lbs. of oil cake—costs you about 3 1/2 cents a pound for the best stock food, and you are not paying a high price for buckwheat hulls or nuttall shells. Here is a good general treatment for sprains, lameness, etc.: 4 ozs. Ay. ammonia, 4 oz. sweet oil, 1 oz. turpentine, 1/2 oz. Oil of nuttall enough to fill one pint bottle. Costs you 50c. Peddling wagons charge you one dollar for this. For worms in stock use 4 ozs. worm-seed, 4 ozs. sulphur, iron, 2 oz. alum—mix. For wind puff, swollen joints, bad sprains, use 1/2 lb. iodine 2 ozs., sweet oil 2 ozs., turpentine, 2 ozs.—mix and rub on twice a day. Medicine wagons sell you a veto.

THEATRE

SCENE OF WILTON LACKAYE IN "THE BATTLE," HERE SATURDAY

"The Battle" by Cleveland Moffett, with Wilton Lackaye as the star, will be the attraction at the Myers theatre Saturday, Feb. 26. It deals with socialism from the viewpoint that prosperity comes to the discredited into "capitalism." In conjunction with this theme, "The Battle" has a human story of a multi-millionaire's life in a New York tenement where he goes to win the esteem of a long lost son, before claiming the son's love as his father. Believing that the poor and discredited in the slums are victims of their own lack of energy and effort, he sets out to prove that a man's force of character and business ability will carry him forward no matter what disadvantages he may have at the start.

THE STAR REPORTER AND THE GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI

"A Gentleman from Mississippi," which the New York Evening Mail described as "The most successful comedy of Washington life since 'The Senator'" is headed this way and will be the attraction at the Myers theatre on Tuesday evening, March 1.

This play has just finished the longest run in the history of Chicago theatres, remaining there six months, the greater part of which was in the hottest weather of the past summer, yet so popular was the piece that the business averaged above $5,000 a week, which is large for summer receipts.

Jurr McIntosh, who returned to the stage for this engagement, after an absence of nine years, found in Senator Langdon the most congenial of the long list of southern parts, which he ever played, and his success in a matter of newspaper history. He was associated with Will Denning as "Bud" Haines, the brash young reporter, and these two made a pair for Chicago to conjure with. They will be seen

AFTON.

Afton, Feb. 25.—Boxes containing supper for two will be on sale at Brinkman's hall next Thursday evening, the occasion being the social given by the Royal Neighbors of this place. It is desired that each box shall contain two cups and two spoons, as coffee will be served, and such preparing her lunch. A suitable program is being arranged and all are invited to come out and spend an enjoyable evening.

There was a good attendance at the supper and sale given by the Ladies Aid society in the Baptist church parlors last Tuesday evening, in spite of cold weather and drifted roads. Patriotic decorations in flags and bunting were very much in evidence, and a memorial to Washington, and a most tempting supper was served. The society will hold its regular meeting with Mrs. John Brinkman next Wednesday at 10 a. m.

At the Baptist church next Sunday evening, Pastor Codd will illustrate here and will be surrounded by the same cast of twenty players who gave them such admirable support all summer. Among these may be mentioned Harry Stubbs, William Velez, Joseph Weber, W. M. Rule, Henry W. Robertson, Geo. B. Miller and Harry Robinson. Five of the most beautiful women on the stage are assigned the feminine roles. They are the Misses Beverly West, Mary Moran, Genevieve Kane, Doulah Watson and Ella Aubrey.

WASHINGTON GIRLS IN "A GENTLEMAN FROM MISSISSIPPI," TUESDAY

There are four sumptuous sets of scenery for the production, representing the lobby of the famous old International hotel in Washington, the dining room of the Mississippi plan's home in Washington and committee rooms at the capitol.

The play is all-American, written by Americans, about Americans, and played by some of the best actors of America. It is not political in the sense of being heavy or factional, but tells a clean story of an intrigue in the U. S. senate, which failed through honesty.

ON THE BEACH.

what he may have to say with stereotypical views, and an earnest invitation is extended to all to be present. Each and every member of the Anti-Horse Thief association will bear in mind that the regular annual meeting of the society will be held at Brinkman's hall next Tuesday evening, at which time new names may be proposed for membership.

Among Afton members of the Economic club, attending the regular business meeting held at Hanover last Thursday, were Mesdames Josephine Antisdel, Louise Brinkman, May Brinkman, Nellie McCrea, Rita Otis, Annie Stark and Mary Walter.

The Men's club held its regular fortnightly meeting at the church last Thursday evening. The next and final number in the lecture course, given by the club, will be held March 11.

Orlo Griffen surprised his relatives and friends here, when he arrived last Monday from Winnipeg, Manitoba, for a brief visit. The company with which Mr. Griffen is connected, has transferred him from Winnipeg to Calgary, and he thought he would run down to see the home folks before leaving for the latter city. As he seemed to relish surprises, several of his young friends and former schoolmates gave him one, in the nature of a party, held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Griffen, last Wednesday evening, which was thoroughly enjoyable to all participating. Mr. Griffen expected to start for Winnipeg on Thursday and will go on from there to Calgary, where he will assume his new position Monday morning.

BROADHEAD.

Broadhead, Feb. 25.—Miss Mabel Bergher of Shullsburg is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Foster.

Mrs. George Colton is much better. Miss Anna Maud Young visited with Orfordville friends on Thursday.

There will be skating at the roller rink on Saturday evening with music by the band.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D.D.) False and True Discipleship, Matt. vii:13-23.

Golden Text—Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father, which is in heaven. Matt. vii:21.

Verse 13-14—In what sense is the gate to eternal life narrow, and the way to destruction broad?

What are the conditions for entering into eternal life?

If a man repents of, and gives up all his sins but one, why is it impossible for him to pass through the gate which leads to eternal life?

Verse 15—Are there any false prophets in these days, and, if so, describe them?

Is a pastor, or a Sunday school teacher, a false prophet if he preaches what he does not practice?

Verse 16—If a man is a good husband, a kind father, an agreeable neighbor, charitable, honest, and industrious, but does not belong to any church, what reason is there for us to conclude that he is not a Christian?

Verse 17—If a man attends church and prayer meetings regularly, and takes part in the services, but is unkind and cross to his wife and children, what reason is there for us to conclude that he is not a hypocrite?

How would you class a woman, active in church and missionary work, who habitually repeats stories, whether true or false, against the character of her neighbors?

Verse 18—From the teachings of Jesus how would you demonstrate that a person may, or may not, be his follower who does not delight to do good, and having the opportunity, is not actively engaged in doing it?

Verse 19—What is the law which operates, to eternally destroy the hope and happiness of all who persist in doing evil?

Verse 20—What is the natural "fruit" of a follower of Jesus, and that of a follower of evil?

Verse 21-23—Jesus intimates here, that a man may be quite successful in religious work, and yet be a worker of iniquity, show how that can be possible.

How does God regard a man who prays, and yet knowingly commits sin?

Does God expect, and is it reasonable to expect, that ordinary mortals can do His will in all things?

How do you account for the self-deception of men, who according to the teaching of Jesus, will walk up to the gate of Heaven, thinking they are saved, but to be turned back as workers of iniquity? (This question may have to be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verse 24-27—Does Jesus mean, that we are to do literally as his words read, in this sermon on the mount, or to take them as principles and do as he did, form the personal acquaintance of the Father, and then do His will in the details?

If a man loves God and his fellows, and is following Jesus in doing good, always being true to the voice of God in his soul, what reason is there to believe that, that is building upon the impregnable rock?

Verse 28-29—What was it that distinguished the teaching of Jesus from that of the scribes?

DAILY DIET HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist.

AFTER FAST RESUME EATING GRADUALLY.

Fasting is becoming more popular as a radical cure for disease. While there are, in many cases, serious objections to a protracted fast, and many cases in which a special diet is preferable, as well as safer, it cannot be denied that great benefit is derived in many cases that the ordinary methods have failed to benefit, if there is confidence, entire absence of fear, there can be no risk for one who is much above weight, and it is in such cases that most benefit is derived. The danger lies in breaking the fast. Eating a full meal after abstaining from food for several days is like turning on the full current to an electric car at rest. Let the power be turned on very gradually by eating only a little fruit or drinking a few spoonfuls of milk or half a pint of fruit juice. Half of a ripe banana, well masticated, doubled three times a day, is good. The longer the fast the greater the care needed in resuming eating. The cases of death commonly reported in the newspapers are not often due to direct effects of fasting, but to nervous shock in breaking the fast.

Orlo Griffen surprised his relatives and friends here, when he arrived last Monday from Winnipeg, Manitoba, for a brief visit. The company with which Mr. Griffen is connected, has transferred him from Winnipeg to Calgary, and he thought he would run down to see the home folks before leaving for the latter city. As he seemed to relish surprises, several of his young friends and former schoolmates gave him one, in the nature of a party, held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Griffen, last Wednesday evening, which was thoroughly enjoyable to all participating. Mr. Griffen expected to start for Winnipeg on Thursday and will go on from there to Calgary, where he will assume his new position Monday morning.

SCARF-DRAPE FROCK.

Foulard so readily lends itself to drapery designs that in making a frock of that material it is an easy matter to conform to the prevailing fashions of the season. In the case of this light blue and white striped foulard one-piece dress, the drapery starts from beneath the front and back of the blouse. One end is then passed about the hips and is looped through the other at the left side of the straight, full skirt. The fulcrum is of fancy white net, the plimping of which is trimmed with light blue cloth and is trimmed with light blue velvet and white espyras.

DEATH OF ENGLISH WOMAN BEING INVESTIGATED.

New York, N. Y.—The police and the coroner spent yesterday investigating the death of Miss Lucile Clerk, the young English woman of good family, who was found dead on Thursday morning in her rooms at the Hotel Grenville, Seventh avenue and Fifty-sixth street.

The autopsy of the police were first attracted to the case by the report of the physicians who attended her to the coroner. In this report the young woman was said to have died under strange circumstances which led the authorities to decide upon an investigation.

Miss Clerk's relatives live in India, it is understood, and she was traveling in this country with Mr. and Mrs. Francis Fry, a young couple who live in London, but who were on their honeymoon.

Miss Clerk came to this country with them in October, and they have stayed in this city since then. She obtained rooms at the Hotel Grenville through a friend, Mrs. V. A. Miller, and the Fry's went to the Hotel Empire for a time. They have disappeared since the young woman's death.

Miss Clerk came to this country with a letter of introduction from Lady Hastings of London to Mrs. Jordan Smith of 140 West Fifty-seventh street. Mrs. Smith introduced the young woman to her friends, and she later met Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Wheeler of the Bonanza, 1730 Broadway, and a Mrs. E. C. Adler of 110 West Sixty-ninth street.

Miss Clerk was taken ill last Tuesday, and next day, on the advice of Mrs. Adler called in Dr. Frank L. Oastler, of 125 West Fifty-ninth street. He summoned two other doctors on Wednesday, but they disagreed in their diagnosis. On Thursday Miss Clerk died and Dr. Oastler reported the case to the coroner as one of ptomaine poisoning.

Yesterday Oastler's physician O'Hanlon performed an autopsy and declared that the cause of death was evidently not ptomaine poisoning.

"It is impossible to say what the woman died of," said Dr. O'Hanlon at the conclusion of the autopsy. "The body is in such condition that it is impossible to determine it definitely. In my opinion an evidence exists of ptomaine poisoning. That her condition arose from bacteria in the alimentary canal is very likely. The case will be cleared up after a microscopic and chemical analysis has been made of the organs."

The keys of the dead woman's three trunks were given to the coroner by Miss Eva Hawkes, who lives in the Metropolitan opera house building, and was a friend of the dead girl. The coroner said that he did not have the authority to open the trunks to search for a clue in the girl's death.

Mrs. Adler, in her home, 140 West Sixty-ninth street, told yesterday what she knew about the girl.

"I met Miss Clerk at a tea," she said, "and I never knew her intimately. I understood from her that she was the daughter of an army surgeon in India who died some years ago. Her mother is now in India and so are her two brothers and one sister, a Mrs. Newlin, who married an army officer there. A younger sister is in a convent at Brussels, Belgium. She has relatives in Edinburgh, Scotland. She came to my home last Monday afternoon."

"I am positive that, on that night she had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Wheeler and Miss Eva Hawkes. Afterward they went to the Metropolitan roller skating rink. After returning to the Grenville, Miss Clerk became ill and when I went to see her the next day I sent for a physician. As she was a stranger I sent Dr. Oastler. He called in Drs. Lambert and Hamilton. On Thursday morning, I went to the Grenville and found a nurse had been summoned and Miss Clerk was very low. I was not in a room at the time of her death, as I only went in for it moment. I have no idea why she died, and do not think it could have been suicide, as she was in good health and the best of spirits."

"It is impossible to say what the

She was able to get together only $300, so the farmer called it off, despite the fact that he had ordered the clergyman to be on hand to marry them. The judge said that the promise to marry was conditional and the condition had not been fulfilled.

Melody of the Turbine.
In a turbine steamer the rhythmic thumping of the pistons disappears and instead the engine gives out a thin soprano song that rises or falls in key with the speed, sometimes suggesting a continuous squeal from the struggling ghosts of steam striving to escape from their close confinement inside the big iron jackets.

Task for Reporter.
"Covering a story" is a newspaper expression with a wide range of meaning. The other afternoon a facetious city editor stretched it a bit. "Mr. Jinks," he said to one of his reporters, "some one down on — street has just been seriously hurt by falling into an open manhole; will you go down and cover it!"

Superlatively Great.
A group of men were seated about a table in the cafe of a western club discussing the rise of the prohibition sentiment when Wado Ellis bustled in. "A great man," said one. "A very great man," replied another; "he had John D. Rockefeller on the stand for a whole day and forced John to admit that he made money."

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE DISEASE OF LAZINESS.
Why are there lazy boys and lazy men? Are they born so?

Dr. Albert von Bergman of Berlin has made a laboratory study of boys, and he is one of the leading authorities in Europe. He says:

"No one is born naturally lazy. One born indolent and inactive is already diseased by some other cause than laziness. The chronically lazy boy is at the start as healthy as the average child. As the boy continues to refuse to do his work in school, his duties at home, his labor in shop and field, a great physical change takes place in him."

Dr. Bergman continues: "The physically becomes so that he cannot help being lazy except under powerful curative treatment."

In other words, laziness is a disease. By his habitual refusal or neglect to do the duties that confront him from time to time the boy really becomes constitutionally lazy and naturally grows up an indolent and shiftless man.

Therefore the duty of parents is plain. Instead of shielding the boy from labors, even hardships, these must be imposed upon him until he willingly shoulders responsibility and forms the habit of industrious application.

There is excuse for the boy who is permitted deliberately to contract the disease of laziness, but there is no excuse for the father or mother who will permit it.

Lazy boys are made, not born. Boys who live in towns and cities are peculiarly exposed to the bacillus of laziness because it is not always possible to give the boys suitable employment. Country boys usually have plenty to do.

And that is one reason why the boys from the farm generally are successful when they come to the city. They have been disciplined into the habit of industry.

The city or town is not a good place to rear boys, and there is the more necessity for keeping them employed in some way.

See that your boy has plenty to do and that he does it well. Do not let him form the bad habit of shirking.

It is almost criminal to allow a healthy boy to grow up in comparative idleness by imposing on him a few house chores and then permitting him to roam the streets or loaf on the corners.

If you spare the pains, you spoil the child.

A MAN NEVER WANTS FIRE INSURANCE So Badly as When it is Too Late

"Too late" may spell "ruin" for many a man who knows right down in his boots that he ought to take out "FIRE INSURANCE" today. Fires always seem to come at the worst moment. As an instance is the Janesville Cotton Bat Mills which burned today. Every good business man today knows that his place of business should be fully covered with fire insurance in some good reliable company. The question is not "Shall I buy insurance?" The question is "Shall I do it now, this very minute?" There is but one answer. Step to the phone now and call us up, and go to bed tonight with assurance that you are protected in case of fire. Check over your lists and see if you have enough insurance. During the winter months it is almost impossible to handle a fire, and if you have not all the insurance your property can stand it is advisable to take out some more, at least for the next few months.

We represent a number of the strongest fire insurance companies in the United States. For 36 years we have sold fire insurance and never have we failed to pay all damages at once. A 36-year record of absolute fulfillment is pretty good security for the future.

A STARTLING
STATEMENTNew York Medical Authorities Claim
Dyspepsia to be a Pre-Disposing
Cause of Consumption

The most modern statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due, at least indirectly, to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain. The weakened, irritable stomach being unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a fertile field in which the germs of disease may lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress is undoubtedly guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal diseases known to mankind.

Dyspepsia may be completely eradicated if properly treated. We sell a remedy that we positively guarantee will completely relieve indigestion or dyspepsia, or the medicine used during the trial will cost the user nothing.

This remedy has been named Rosall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and our offer should be proof positive that Rosall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable remedy.

Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you, we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try Rosall Dyspepsia Tablets. A 25-cent box contains enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. For chronic cases we have two larger sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rosall Remedies in Jansville only at our store—The Rosall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

CHEAPER GRADES IN
TOBACCO ARE BOUGHT

Market Does Not Appear to Change
Very Much in Past Few Weeks.

Tobacco market conditions continue
the same as for several weeks past.
The bulk of the buying that is being done in Edgerton is of the cheaper grades, where growers are willing to accept figures that will permit of filling of export or strippers' orders.
Purely domestic grades, such as the figures
paid in the early buying. A few recent sales recorded by the Edgerton
Tobacco Reporter are:

Albert Meyer, 84 at 7 1/2c.
Fred Lamm, 84 at 7 1/2c.
Bunting & Silverwood, 64 at 7 1/2c.
Wm. Bohlen, 84 at 7 1/2c.
Lilik Thompson, 84 at 6 1/2c.

Receiving of early purchases is being crowded along as fast as packing facilities warrant, but will continue a couple of months yet, and warehouse
work is carried forward as rapidly as
the help situation at the packing
points will permit.

The market for old leaf develops
only a moderate demand for most grades. Sales are confined mostly for small lots to meet manufacturers' present needs. The sale of 60 cases of '07 by Halverson & Dittora to a local packer is reported. Also a 600-case lot of '07 "B" by a large packer
to a New York house. "B" much of the trading is of the cheaper grades
that the small margins that they are seldom reported.

The shipments out of storage reach 700 cases and 5 cars of bundles. Since last report 45 cars have been received from outside points for warehouse
handling in this market.

It has been decided by the board of directors to move the headquarters of the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity from Madison
to Eau Claire to be nearer the center of membership in this state. At the same time it was decided to move the Tobacco Growers' association, an organization of Equity society members, from Madison to Stoughton. The 1909 crop was packed at 12 warehouses in the state under Equity management,
and over 5,000 cases were put up, but
slow sales and unsatisfactory returns
caused the state society to turn the tobacco business over to a separate management and the business was concentrated at four warehouses in 1908. The present crop will doubtless be packed at Taylor, London, Gays Mills, Westby and Stoughton, but in less quantities than heretofore. The present Equity society has apparently dropped the tobacco department, and
co-operative marketing of this product will hereafter be done by stock
companies composed of farmers in localities in which they operate. This has already been accomplished at Gays Mills and London, and the writer has every reason to believe that this method will prove much more satisfactory than being down to any state organization, as its members will be in close touch with its management and have a firmer voice in deciding its policy. It will give growers facilities for holding their crops
if they choose and still retain their privilege to market at whatever price they think best and whenever an opportunity arises. They are not compelled to surrender their title to their property as under Equity management, which was the great obstacle
to success of that method of marketing tobacco.

EXPECT A DECISION
EARLY NEXT MONTHAppeal From Judge Stevens' Decision
Pending Before Supreme Court.

The Wisconsin primary election law
is now before the state supreme court
on a test as to its constitutionality.
The case was brought by State Senator Lehr of Oshkosh and was decided
in favor of the law by Circuit Judge
E. Ray Stevens, formerly of Janesville.
In view of the fact that Judge
Stevens was appointed by La Follette
as governor, the decision rendered
by this appellate in favor of his crea-
tor's statute was not looked upon as
the real test of the validity of the law,
and the forthcoming decision, due on March 8, will be the real statement
as to whether the law is to stand.
The case was argued in the supreme court during the past week. The
grounds for the attack on the statute
are that it is a violation of party organizations, that it abridges the right
of peaceable assembly, that there were
irregularities of a vital nature in the
process of its enactment, and that it
is in fact an amendment, and abridges
and annulment of the process of election of United States senators as prescribed in the federal law.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary Phillips
Oxfordville, Wis., Feb. 24.—Mrs.
Mary Salmon Phillips, an old resident of Wisconsin, died Saturday, February 19, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. T. Patridge, in Spring
Valley. The deceased was eighty-six
years of age, born in Lewis county, New York, May 18, 1822. When
she was nine years of age her parents moved to the state of Ohio, and
she grew to womanhood there. May 8, 1842, she was married to Franklin
Phillips and in 1867 they moved to Wisconsin, settling on a farm in Spring Valley Center. Later they
took up their residence in Broadhead.
Mr. Phillips died in November, 1908,
and since his demise Mrs. Phillips
has made her home with her daughter in Spring Valley. Two children
were born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillips,
William, who died in the army, and
the daughter with whom Mrs. Phillips
has made her home, Mrs. L. T. Patridge.
Mrs. Phillips was a fine Christian, and one sincerely loved
and revered by all. At the age of
eighteen she united with the Methodist church and later with the Baptist church in Broadhead.

SHE QUIT
But It Was a Hard Pull

It is hard to believe that coffee will
put a person in such a condition as it
did an Ohio woman. She tells her
own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my
trouble, and frequently said I liked
it so well I would not and could not
quit drinking it, but I was a miserable
sufferer from heart trouble and nervous prostration for four years.
"I was scarcely able to do around,
had no energy and did not care for
anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until
I thought I could not endure it. For
months I never went to bed expecting
to get up in the morning. I felt as
though I was liable to die any time."
"Frequently I had nervous chills
and the least excitement would drive
me up and down, and my little house
would be a terrible place. I was gradually getting worse until finally one
time when I was over me and I asked myself
what the use of being sick all the time and buying medicine so that I
could indulge myself in coffee?"
"So I thought I would see if I could
quit drinking coffee and get some possibly to help me quit. I made it strictly according to directions and I want
to tell you, that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to
quit coffee because I had the Postum
which I now like better than the old
coffee."
"One by one the old troubles left,
and now I am in splendid health,
nervous steady, heart all right and
the pain all gone. Never have any more nervous chills, don't take any
medicine, can do all my housework
and have done a great deal besides."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., Feb. 25.—The last

Needs of the Hour," delivered by Hon.
Geo. B. Alden of Boston. This number, Alden's series of five entertainments, all of which have been excellent, and any one of which was
worth alone the price paid for the
ticket. Judge Alden is a very gifted
speaker and has a keen wit and ready
humor that appeal to the hearts of his
hearers, and his frankness and his
attentive will tend to impress upon
the citizen, that honesty, after all, is
the best policy, and anyone who ad-
heres strictly to this rule will contribute his share toward the better-
ment of the government and the down-
fall of political grafters. The lecture
was by far one of the best ever given
in this city. Though he gave some
pretty strong statements, every one
was backed by a truth, and plainly
proven. The audience was very appreciative, and all went away from
the hall feeling that their time had
been well spent in listening to so
great a man as Judge Alden.

cellent, and any one of which was
worth alone the price paid for the
ticket. Judge Alden is a very gifted
speaker and has a keen wit and ready
humor that appeal to the hearts of his
hearers, and his frankness and his
attentive will tend to impress upon
the citizen, that honesty, after all, is
the best policy, and anyone who ad-
heres strictly to this rule will con-
tribute his share toward the better-
ment of the government and the down-
fall of political grafters. The lecture
was by far one of the best ever given
in this city. Though he gave some
pretty strong statements, every one
was backed by a truth, and plainly
proven. The audience was very ap-
preciative, and all went away from
the hall feeling that their time had
been well spent in listening to so
great a man as Judge Alden.

EXPECT A DECISION
EARLY NEXT MONTHAppeal From Judge Stevens' Decision
Pending Before Supreme Court.

The Wisconsin primary election law
is now before the state supreme court
on a test as to its constitutionality.
The case was brought by State Sen-
ator Lehr of Oshkosh and was decided
in favor of the law by Circuit Judge
E. Ray Stevens, formerly of Janesville.
In view of the fact that Judge
Stevens was appointed by La Follette
as governor, the decision rendered
by this appellate in favor of his crea-
tor's statute was not looked upon as
the real test of the validity of the law,
and the forthcoming decision, due on March 8, will be the real statement
as to whether the law is to stand.
The case was argued in the supreme
court during the past week. The
grounds for the attack on the statute
are that it is a violation of party organizations, that it abridges the right
of peaceable assembly, that there were
irregularities of a vital nature in the
process of its enactment, and that it
is in fact an amendment, and abridges
and annulment of the process of election of United States senators as pre-
scribed in the federal law.

representing the complainant, and Attorney Thomas S. Nolan, counsel for the defendant.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Mary Phillips
Oxfordville, Wis., Feb. 24.—Mrs.
Mary Salmon Phillips, an old resi-
dent of Wisconsin, died Saturday, February 19, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. T. Patridge, in Spring
Valley. The deceased was eighty-six
years of age, born in Lewis county, New York, May 18, 1822. When
she was nine years of age her parents moved to the state of Ohio, and
she grew to womanhood there. May
8, 1842, she was married to Franklin
Phillips and in 1867 they moved to Wisconsin, settling on a farm in Spring Valley Center. Later they
took up their residence in Broadhead.
Mr. Phillips died in November, 1908,
and since his demise Mrs. Phillips
has made her home with her daughter in Spring Valley. Two children
were born to Mr. and Mrs. Phillips,
William, who died in the army, and
the daughter with whom Mrs. Phillips
has made her home, Mrs. L. T. Patridge.
Mrs. Phillips was a fine Chris-
tian, and one sincerely loved
and revered by all. At the age of
eighteen she united with the Methodist church and later with the Baptist church in Broadhead.

SHE QUIT
But It Was a Hard Pull

It is hard to believe that coffee will
put a person in such a condition as it
did an Ohio woman. She tells her
own story:

"I did not believe coffee caused my
trouble, and frequently said I liked
it so well I would not and could not
quit drinking it, but I was a miserable
sufferer from heart trouble and ner-
vous prostration for four years.
"I was scarcely able to do around,
had no energy and did not care for
anything. Was emaciated and had a constant pain around my heart until
I thought I could not endure it. For
months I never went to bed expecting
to get up in the morning. I felt as
though I was liable to die any time."
"Frequently I had nervous chills
and the least excitement would drive
me up and down, and my little house
would be a terrible place. I was gradually getting worse until finally one
time when I was over me and I asked myself
what the use of being sick all the
time and buying medicine so that I
could indulge myself in coffee?"
"So I thought I would see if I could
quit drinking coffee and get some possibly to help me quit. I made it strict-
ly according to directions and I want
to tell you, that change was the greatest step in my life. It was easy to
quit coffee because I had the Postum
which I now like better than the old
coffee."
"One by one the old troubles left,
and now I am in splendid health,
nervous steady, heart all right and
the pain all gone. Never have any
more nervous chills, don't take any
medicine, can do all my housework
and have done a great deal besides."

CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
AT THE HIGH SCHOOLColumbus High School Basketball Team Plays Local Five Here Tonight for District Championship.

Tonight the game for the championship of the southwestern district
of Wisconsin and admittance into the state interscholastic basketball tournament at Madison on March 10, 11
and 12, will be played at the local high school between the high school basketball team and the five from Columbus high school. The contest is a subject of much interest to the students and the members of the team, who are desirous of having the Bower City quintet matched against some of the best playing teams in the state. They are confident that the game tonight will result as all former games this season have, in a victory, and are hoping that the Janesville
players will get at least a "joke-
in" at the championship.

While the Columbus school is known to have a good team, they are not thought to be formidable and confidently fallen before the prowess of
the squad of the Jefferson school.
The Janesville athletes, however,
have been preparing for a good game
so as not to be caught off their guard, and are in fine condition for the match tonight. As it is to be a match game, an official from Madison
will referee, in order that there may be no complaints from either side.
The Columbus team and their followers arrived in the city at noon today and the game this evening will start at eight o'clock sharp. It is expected that an unusually large crowd
will be out to attend this game, many planning to attend who have not witnessed the previous matches.

FIRST BLUE BIRD
IS DUE TO ARRIVE

Look Sharp and If You See Him Then
You May Know That Spring
Is Not Far Off.

According to Mr. Baker, a Chicago naturalist, today is the time when the first bluebird is scheduled to arrive in this city and as Janesville is but slightly miles further north it may well be considered in the same list. This little bird comes five to six weeks
ahead of the first buds and early flowers so it seen one may make a fair guess on when spring will really arrive. Mr. Bluebird's usual date of arrival in the Windy City is from Feb. 25 to March 5, and Mr. Baker is almost willing to stake his professional reputation that there will be a bluebird hopping about somewhere today if the weather becomes a little warmer.

Whether he will be spotted on sight
and where is another question. Look out for him. He has only six notes
to his song, but his theme is the end
of rheumatism, colds, chills, fey
breakers, and all sorts of ailments.
Mr. Bluebird's right name is "Sialia sialis." He is a friendly character and is apt to nest in an old box or rain barrel about your house. Generally he remodels for his own use woodpecker or owl nests, in decayed
or hollow trees.

Of the other early birds, the cow-
bird is fairly described by the name
by which it is better known in the south, "cow black bird." The bronzed grackle is one of the largest of that group and is fox red, striped with black. Tree swallows are after the color. The swallow the most common
of the swallows and are white bellied;
the loggerhead shrike is closely related to the commoner butcher bird,
but smaller in size.

Early woodpeckers are perhaps the most common of the woodpecker family. The golden-crowned kinglet is

TAFT HAS NOT CUT THE LIST

INDISTS FULL PROGRAM OF LEGISLATION MUST BE CARRIED OUT.

WILL PRESS FIVE MEASURES

President Declares He looks for Congress to Pass Bills Set Forth as Solemn Party Pledges—He Abandons None.

Washington, Feb. 25.—To callers at the White House President Taft declared that he had not curtailed his legislative program to four bills as has been stated in certain dispatches sent out from Washington.

In recently published interviews purporting to set forth the president's attitude, it was stated that he would press only four measures at this session of congress. The printed list omitted all reference to the conservation bills, whereas the president has repeatedly pointed out that he would insist, so far as he legitimately could, that some at least of the conservation measures should be enacted into law before the present session adjourns.

Gives New List.
The bills which the president declared that he looked for congress to pass in redemption of solemn party pledges are these:

Establishing postal savings banks.
Amending and strengthening the interstate commerce law.

The conservation measures giving the president the right to withdraw public lands from entry and to continue the withdrawal until revoked by himself or by an act of congress, and providing for a reclassification of the lands. "These two bills may be consolidated."

The anti-injunction bill.
Hatchwood for New Mexico and Arizona.

Also Some More.

In addition to these the president has recommended several other matters of legislation, including the bill for a new form of government in Alaska, the bill for federal incorporation and the bill creating a public health bureau.

Mr. Taft left it known that while he would urge only the five measures set forth as the party pledges, he has by no means abandoned the other measures he has recommended, and will call the attention of congress to them again at the beginning of the next session. He will continue to urge the measures until some definite action is taken on them.

CONFESSES TO MANY CRIMES.

Pittsburg Police Nab Bandit Who Gave Them Ten-Day Chase.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—The mysterious masked bandit who has been holding up stores and individuals for the past three weeks—the same bandit for whom one hundred detectives at Pittsburg have been searching for the past ten days—was captured in the heart of the business center. He gives his name as Stephen Austin of Terre Haute, Ind., but admits that this is not all of his name. He is college bred, speaks several languages and is a most gentlemanly and polished young man. He confessed his many crimes to the police.

PREMIER WINS IN FIRST VOTE.

Majority is 31, Although Nationalists Refrain from Balloting.

London, Feb. 25.—The first trial of strength in the new house of commons occurred at a crowded session when Austen Chamberlain's fiscal amendment was rejected by a vote of 285 to 254. The government may regard the majority of 31 as very satisfactory, as there was no cross-voting, no evidence that the discontented groups intend to try to overthrow the ministry. All the Nationalists, O'Connors as well as Redmondites, and three Liberals, abstained from voting. The laborites voted with the government.

TRIAL OF DR. FRITCH HAS A SENSATION

Husband Declares His Wife, Who Is Witness, Swears False—Will Impeach Her Testimony.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 25.—During the trial of Dr. George A. Fritch, charged with causing the death of Maybelle Millman, Frank L. Lodge, the doctor's attorney, was attacked by the husband of Mrs. Bessie Knott, one of the witnesses for the defense.

The assailant attempted to follow up this blow, which struck the attorney on the chest. Detectives, however, prevented.

Mrs. Knott was the last witness Wednesday. While she was testifying a man stepped up to Judge Phelan and said:

"You should not let her testify, Judge. You ought to stop it."

"Why?" asked the judge in surprise. "It's rank perjury," the man is reported to have told the judge, and then he said he was Frank Knott, the woman's husband.

Judge Phelan immediately adjourned court, but it was the usual hour for stopping and his action caused no surprise. When lawyers and witnesses reassembled Mrs. Knott was to take the stand for her cross-examination. Her husband's action, however, caused a commotion, and a short recess was taken.

When the excitement had subsided Mrs. Knott was called to testify. The prosecutor put her through a grueling examination, but her story could not be shaken. Mrs. Knott's testimony was to the effect that she had been in Dr. Fritch's office at the time, August 27, when it is alleged that Maybelle Millman went there and received fatal treatment. She denied seeing the dead girl in the office, and explained that she would have seen her had she been there.

Knott has made arrangements with the prosecution to take the stand on rebuttal, and attempt to impeach his wife's testimony.

HYDE WINS IMPORTANT POINT.

Witness Says Screws in Col. Swope's Coffin Were Loose.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 25.—The testimony of R. B. Mitchell, an undertaker's assistant, who said that several screws in the lid of Col. Thomas Swope's coffin were loose when the body was removed for an autopsy, is regarded as highly important by the attorneys for Dr. C. B. Hyde.

Mitchell's testimony was taken by Dr. Hyde's attorneys in connection with the slander suit brought by the physician against John G. Paxton, an executor of the Swope estate. C. A. Lyon, another assistant undertaker, said he fastened tightly every screw in the lid of the coffin following the funeral.

Mrs. Stella and Sarah Swope, daughters of Mr. Logan O. Swope, and Miss Mildred Fox, a friend of the Swope family, testified before the grand jury.

CARY, IND., HAS $75,000 FIRE.

One Three-Story Structure Burned—Smoke Overcomes 'Phone Girls.

Cary, Ind., Feb. 25.—Miss Hattie Stevens and Miss Charlotte Chomies, telephone girls in the local exchange, were overcome by smoke during a fire which destroyed the Ohio building, a three-story structure, and for a time threatened other structures. The girls remained at their switchboards in the exchange adjoining the Ohio building until they fell unconscious.

The fire started in the basement of the building occupied by offices, a poolroom and the Masonic lodge room, and flames headed by Chief Peasey fought the flames until they were almost exhausted.

The loss will reach $75,000.

Clerk Fatally Wounds His Political Enemy—Claims Self-Defense.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—John (Bud Jack) Barry, was shot, probably fatally, in Justice Reichenmann's courtroom by Henry L. Diedrichson, the court's clerk. Diedrichson claims Barry had a knife upon him and had started toward him saying: "Now I'm going to kill you as I ought to have done a long while ago."

The shooting is said to be the outgrowth of a political feud.

"ELASTIC SKIN MAN" SUCCEUMS.

Was Able to Stretch His Cuticle to Extraordinary Degree.

Holmes had a kind of elastic cushion between his inner and outer skin which enabled him to stretch his cuticle to an extraordinary extent.

Fires Fatal to One.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—One man lay dead, two were seriously burned, five others are suffering from painful burns and partial asphyxiation, and members of two families, including several children, were rescued from death in five fires which were fought by Chicago firemen. ## MIDVALE STEEL PAYS 1200 PER CENT. DIVIDEND

Biggest Share Profit Ever Declared by Industrial Company—Is Independent of Trust.

New York, Feb. 25.—One of the largest dividends ever declared by an industrial company will be made by the Midvale Steel Company of Philadelphia when its stockholders will receive a stock dividend of 1,200 per cent.

This is the company which caused a sensation a few years ago in the steel world by putting in bids on armor plate for the United States government battleships much below those of the United States Steel corporation and the Bethlehem Steel Company. Over the powerful opposition of these two corporations the Midvale Company succeeded in breaking into the government business.

Since then it has secured much of the armor plate contracts, and in all its bids the company has maintained absolute independence.

ATTACKS "SWEAT BOX" METHODS

Senator Heyburn Calls Police "Third Degree" Ordeal Cruel.

Washington, Feb. 25.—If a resolution introduced in the senate by Senator Heyburn is adopted the senate will take up the Seyler case at Atlantic City, N. J. The resolution provides for the appointment of a select committee of three to investigate "the practice of administering what is known as the third degree ordeal by officers of the law for the purpose of extorting statements and confessions from those charged with crime."

Mr. Heyburn said he had read an article from a newspaper giving an account of the methods said to have been employed by the Atlantic City police to obtain a confession from William Seyler, charged with the murder of Jane Adams. He asserted that such methods were more cruel than those of the Inquisition.

PIERRE, S. D., ADOPTS REFORMS.

BANK CLERK ON HIS WAY BACK.

Cambridge Man Interested in Politics and Stocks, Says Rumor.

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 25.—George W. Coleman, the $12 a week bookkeeper of the National City bank, in which a shortage of $144,000 was uncovered, did not disclose his whereabouts, although an attorney claiming to represent him declared he was on his way back and would reach Cambridge. That Coleman will not return voluntarily is the belief of officers engaged in the search for him.

It is rumored that Coleman was deeply interested in the recent mayoral campaign in Boston and contributed no less than $10,000 to the fund of one of the unsuccessful candidates. It is also asserted that he lost fully $20,000 during the past year on the curb market.

New York, Feb. 25.—The post office authorities are busily engaged in tracing the authorship of the "black hand" letters sent to Judge Ray of the United States circuit court in connection with the trial of Lupo and his band of counterfeiters. The members of this band were sentenced by Judge Ray to terms of imprisonment ranging from 15 to 20 years.

Letters containing threats of dire vengeance were sent to Judge Ray during and after the trial. One letter read:

"If the counterfeiters are not released you will die the death of a dog. We have killed better men than you."

INSURES PURE MILK

Hood for Bucket Strains Fluid as It Comes From the Cow.

An improved type of milk bucket that hangers milk free from bacteria or sediment is that designed by an Atlantic City, N. J., man. This bucket is fitted with a hood that looks like a metal scuttle with the bottom saved off. In one of the lower sides of this hood is an opening covered with wire gauze and over this is a cap raised a slight distance. When the milk is poured into the bucket the cap is slightly raised and the air strikes the milk, before entering the bucket. This strains is covered with a piece of wet straw cloth and the stream of milk is directed into the opening of the hood.

AIR KEPT PURE IN BUCKET.

Hood, When the milk is high enough in the bucket it flows through the strainer. The flow of air is outward and the milk is deposited in the "pure air" as it enters the bucket. In this way all the impure matter that may be in the milk originally is strained out and remains on the cloth. Care should be taken to use a fresh cloth each time and in this way the average dairymen will have milk as free from bacteria as that of any of the sterilized dairies that spend large sums of money yearly for apparatus to purify the milk.

That Postal Deficit

The Joint Postal Commission in 1907 reported as follows:

"It appears too obvious to require argument that the most efficient service can never be expected as long as the direction of the business is, as at present, intrusted to a Postmaster-General and certain assistants selected without special reference to experience and qualifications and subject to frequent change. Before the Postmaster-General and his assistants can become reasonably familiar with the operations of the service they are replaced by others, who, in turn, are called upon to resign before they can, in the nature of things, become qualified by knowledge and experience to perform their allotted tasks. Under such a system a large railroad, commercial or industrial business would inevitably go into bankruptcy, and the Post Office Department has avowed that fate only because the United States Treasury has been available to meet deficiencies."

The public accountants' report said:

"The work of the Department and its development is hindered all along the line by slavish adherence to old methods and to precedents created in previous years, and many reforms which might otherwise be instituted are hindered—if not entirely prevented—by appeals to the decisions of the Controller, made, perhaps, many years ago, under entirely different conditions. Then, again, the conservatism of Government officials is a generally admitted fact. There is no inducement to employees to suggest improvements in the service for the reason that if these improvements result in greater efficiency or economy of administration they will receive little credit; and, on the other hand, if new methods are not successful they will be charged with the whole blame."

In view of these official statements by those whom Congress authorized to investigate the Post-Office, we submit that the Postmaster-General's attempt to wipe out the deficit in his Department by raising the postage on your magazines, instead of by devoting his energies to securing legislation that will place the service on a sound, efficient and economical basis, is unwise and unbusinesslike. The nature of his recommendations, and the attempt to exempt newspapers from any increase, are final grounds for a divorce of this great business department from politics.

MAJ. GEN. J. FRANKLIN BELL

MAJ. GEN. LEONARD WOOD

THE NEW CHIEF OF STAFF.
Major General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the United States Army, and Major General Leonard Wood, who is to succeed him.

Washington, D. C.—Within a few weeks Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., will step into the position now held by Major General J. Franklin Bell as chief of staff in the United States army. This is an important happening in army circles, for in placing Major General Wood in this position he is jumping over a number of the men, and is the youngest chief of staff in the history of the army.

His life history is one of continual advancement through his own efforts. It may be truthfully said that he has attained these honors because he has done deeds and accomplished results which many another man has failed in.

General Wood was brought up on the shores of Cape Cod. He was the son of a country doctor, and as a lad was active in outdoor sports. He rode horseback, and did much hunting. The physique which he built up along him in good stead, and a few years later when he won the reputation of being the only man in the southwest who could out-march an Apache. One example of his wonderful endurance occurred along the Mexican frontier when it was necessary for the officers to get in touch with Washington immediately. General Wood walked 73 miles at night to the nearest telegraph office and returned for breakfast the next morning. This was on top of a 25-mile forced march the day before, and he walked 31 miles that day at the head of the infantry, which made a total of 132 miles in 34 hours—59 miles on foot and 73 miles in the saddle. It was while fighting the Apaches in the southwest that he formed the acquaintance of General Miles and Captain Lawton.

General Wood is a physician of ability and during the term of office of President McKinley he was attending physician of the White house. It was here that he made the acquaintance of Theodore Roosevelt, secretary of the navy, and a strong friendship sprang up between these two men, which was to have a most remarkable bearing on future history. With the Spanish war broke out Roosevelt and Wood organized the famous "Rough Riders," and the work of this fighting machine he familiar to every school child. After the war General Wood was assigned to the work of cleaning up Cuba, and the accomplished wonders with everything he undertook.

President Roosevelt during his time in the chair had much faith in Major General Wood and advanced him from one post to another until now it is possible for him to step into the shoes of Major General Bell while still in his prime, and will be able to be one of the chief actors on the international stage for 14 years, at which time he

CHAPTER X.

Prof. Griswold Takes the Field. Barbara and Griswold stopped at the telephone office on their way back to the executive mansion, and were met with news that the sheriff of Mingo had refused to receive Griswold's message.

"His private lines of communication with the capital are doubtless well established," said Griswold, "and I am worth probably warned him, but it isn't of great importance. It's just as well for Appleweight and his friends, high and low, to show their hands."

When they were again on the veranda, Griswold lingered for a moment with no valid excuse for delay beyond the loveliness of the night and his keen delight in Barbara's voice and her occasional low laughter, which was so pleasant to hear that he held their talk to a light key, that he might evoke it the more.

"You have done all that could be asked of you, Mr. Griswold, and I cannot permit you to remain longer. Father will certainly be here tomorrow."

"Oh, but your father isn't absent! He is officially present and in the saddle," laughed Griswold. "You must not admit, even to me, that he is not here in full charge of his office. And as for my leaving the field, I have not the slightest intention of going back to Virginia until the Appleweight ghost is laid, the governor of North Carolina brought to confusion, and the governor of South Carolina visibly present and thundering his edicts again, so to speak, ex cathedra. My own affairs can wait, Miss Osborne. The joy of having a hand in a little affair like this, and of being able to tell my friend Tommy Ardmore about it afterward, would be sufficient. Ardmore will never speak to me again for not inviting him to a share in the game."

He was more buoyant than she had seen him, and she liked the note of affection that crept into his tone as he spoke of his friend.

"Ardmore is the most remarkable person alive," Griswold continued. "You remember I spoke of him this morning. He likes to play the inscrutable idiot, and he carries it off pretty well; but underneath he's really clever. The most amazing ideas take hold of him. You never could imagine what he's doing now! I met him accidentally in Atlanta the other day, and he was in pursuit of a face—a girl's face that he had seen from a car window for only an instant on a sliding somewhere. He declared to me most solemnly that the girl winked at him!"

Griswold was aware that Miss Osborne's interest in Ardmore cooled perceptibly.

"Oh!" she said, with that delightful intonation with which a woman utterly extinguishes a sister.

"I shouldn't have told you that," said Griswold, guiltily aware of falling temperature. "He is capable of following a winking eye at a perfectly respectful distance for a hundred years, and of being entertained all the time by the joy of pursuit."

"It seems very unusual," said Barbara, with cold finality.

Griswold remembered this talk as, the next day, aboard the train bound for Turner Court House, the seat of Mingo county, South Carolina, he pondered a telegram he had received from Ardmore. He read and re-read this message, chewing cigars and scowling at the landscape, and the cause of his perturbation of spirit may be roughly summarized in these words:

On leaving the executive mansion the night before, he had studied maps in his room at the Saluda house, and carefully planned his campaign. He had talked by telephone with the prosecuting attorney of Mingo county, and found that official politely responsive. So much had gone well. Then the juxtaposition of Ardmore's estate to the border, and the possibility of the house as headquarters, struck in upon him. He would, after all, generously take Ardmore into the game, and they would uphold the honor and dignity of the great commonwealth of South Carolina together.

The keys of all Ardmore's houses were, so to speak, in Griswold's pocket, and invitations were unnecessary between them; yet, at Atlanta Ardmore had made a point of asking Griswold down to help while away the tedium of Mrs. Atchison's house party, and as a matter of form Griswold wired from Columbia, advising Ardmore of his unexpected descent.

Even in case Ardmore should still be abroad in pursuit of the winking eye, the doors of the huge house would be open to Griswold, who had entered there so often as the owner's familiar friend. These things he pondered deeply as he read and re-read Ardmore's reply to his message, a reply which was plainly enough dated at Ardley, but which, he could not know, had really been written in calaboose 086 as it lay on a siding in the southeastern yards at Raleigh, and thence dispatched to the manager at Ardley, with instructions to forward it as a new message to Griswold at Columbia. The chilling words thus hung at him were:

Prof. Henry Maine Griswold, Saluda House, Columbia, S. C.: I am a very sorry, old man, but I can't take you and just now I don't feel like it. I don't think of exposing you to danger. As soon as the accused plague passes I want to have you soon.

An epidemic that closed the gates of Ardley would assume the proportions of a national disaster; for even if the great house itself were quarantined, there were lodges and bunkhouses scattered over the domain, where a host of guests could be entertained in comfort. Griswold reflected that the very fact that he had wired from Columbia must have intimated to Ardmore that his friend was flying toward him, pursuant to the Atlanta invitation. Griswold dismissed a thousand speculations as unworthy. Ardmore had never shown the remotest trace of snobishness, and as far as the threatened house party was concerned, Griswold knew Mrs. Atchison very well, and had been entertained at her New York house.

The patronizing tone of the thing caused Griswold to flush at every reading. If the Ardley date line had not been so plainly written; if the phraseology were not so characteristic, there might be room for doubt; but Ardmore—Ardmore, of all men, had slapped him in the face!

But, scarlet fever or no scarlet fever, the pursuit of Appleweight had precedence of private grievances. By the time he reached Turner Court House Griswold had dismissed the ungraciousness of Ardmore, and his jaws were set with a determination to perform the mission intrusted to him by Barbara Osborne, and to wait until later for an accounting with his unaccountable friend.

Arrived at Turner, Griswold strode at once toward the courthouse. The contemptuous rejection of his message by the sheriff of Mingo had angered Griswold, but he was destined to feel even more poignant insolence when, entering the sheriff's office, a deputy, languidly posed as a letter "V" in a swivel chair, with his feet on the mantel, took a cob pipe from his mouth and lazily answered Griswold's importunate query with:

"The sheriff ain't here, seh. He's a visitin' his folks in Tennessee."

"When will he be back?" demanded Griswold, hot of heart, but maintaining the icy tone that had made him so formidable in cross-examination.

"I reckon I don't know, seh."

"Do you know your own name?" persisted Griswold, angrily.

"Go to hell, seh," replied the deputy. He reached for a match, relighted his pipe, and carefully crossed his feet on the mantel-shelf. The moment Griswold's steps died away in the outer corridor the deputy rose and busied himself so industriously with the telephone that within an hour all through the Mingo hills, and even beyond the state line, along lonely trails, across hills and through valleys, and beside cheery creeks and brooks, it was known that a strange man from Columbia was in Mingo county looking for the sheriff, and Appleweight, alias Potent, and his men were everywhere on guard.

Griswold liked the prosecuting attorney on sight. His name was Habersham, and he was a youngster with a

IF IT DISAPPEARS, IT'S ECZEMA.

How to Tell Whether a Skin Affection Is an Inherited Skin Disease or Not.

Sometimes it is hard to determine whether a skin affection is a sign of a blood disorder or simply a form of eczema. Even physicians are often puzzled in their diagnosis. The best way for any one afflicted is to go to the South Drug Co., the People's Drug Co., or any good drug store that handles pure drugs and obtain a bottle of ECZEMA. Apply this, and if the itching stops at once and the trouble is cured in a few days it may be set down as having been eczema, as this is the way poison acts in the worst cases of eczema, and to curing acne, herpes, blotches, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, barbers' and other forms of itchy, scaly scalp, and all surface skin eruptions.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 22 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York, can secure, by mail, free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.
